For us, secure jobs are all about full-time permanent employment and decent work conditions. This provides a solid base for a developing a working life with increased productivity, long-term growth and, in turn, space for wage increase.

Secure jobs are also about increased skills development and enhanced learning. It strengthens the employment security which also contributes to strengthening companies.

A condition for the development of an equal society is that everyone who can work is working.

Therefore, we must have a policy that create conditions for more and secure jobs with decent work conditions.

We want

- To increase the status of the jobs within food industries
- Better opportunities for work transition
- A goal for full employment to be set
